9.	Why did you start flying?	Several reasons: My mother was a TWA flight attendant in the 40's and talked about her travels throughout my childhood. She was also a friend of Mrs. Olive Ann Beech and I marveled that Mrs. Beech was CEO of such a large, dynamic company. I also worked for Boeing in a building near the factory and watched planes come and go, wishing I was in them. Growing up in Wichita, aviation was a common topic, but the final straw was when my brother took lessons and I had to find out if I could fly too.
10.	Tell us about your favorite flying adventure	I loved flying into the little unmanned airstrips dotting the outlying areas near Wichita. The most memorable was one of the first landings I had with the flight instructor going into Mid-Continent. We were flaring and he told me to go ahead and touch down, but the landing had been so soft that I had to tell him we were already on the ground. As a student, I was thrilled I could pull it off.
11.	Why did you join the 99s?	I miss flying and want to return to it on a recreational level. I see The 99s as an opportunity to listen and learn from women with experience and a sense of adventure!
